

“Eutility provided exceptional expertise and support”

Eutility’s Mission

Ensuring customers recover all potential overcharges, receive the lowest forward cost the market can bear and, over the period of our agreement, guarantee our customers pay the lowest price for electricity, natural gas and telecommunications. That is, complete elimination of the risk of overpayment.

About Eutility

Eutility is wholly Australian owned company. Providing corporate energy and telecommunications cost management solutions to Australian and International companies since 1979, we are pleased to have assisted more than 50,000 organisations to reduce their bottom lines.

Eutility operates in every state of Australia and through our ability to consistently provide quality savings for our customers, we have built an ongoing client base of over 3,000 businesses in over 11,000 locations in Australia and internationally.

Testimonials: A Letter From Yum! Restaurants International

Yum! Restaurants International wish to congratulate the Eutility team with regard to procurement, validation and ultimately the delivery of the SmartEnergy program.

The process of delivery was undertaken in a highly professional manner, securing the group with extremely competitive metering and retail rates for equity stores. As a result, we have had a tremendous uptake of our independent KFC franchisees.

Eutility provided exceptional expertise and support during our recent tender for the procurement of our metering and retail contracts. Yum! have also adopted the SmartEnergy platform across all equity stores and a large proportion of our franchise stores. This system allows stores to have easy access to energy invoices and near-live interval data feeds, which in turn provides tools to encourage behavioural change in stores. Invoice validation, tariff checking and regular reporting all provide Yum! with additional assurance and tools to manage our energy spend/usage across stores.

I would like to personally congratulate your General Manager, Neil Gifford, and especially our allocated account manager, Alexandra Large, for their professionalism and superior account management
